OSCAR SAYS—THE STAFF APPROVES—

Tiger Ball Series Begins Tomorrow Night With Dance

Jungleers Play For Entire Series

By ROBERT L. HEMPSTEAD
Assistant Society Editor.

The Tiger editors put away their typewriters, the business men put away their bills and the circulation men are putting the Tigers in the mails today with vim, vigor and vitality, and one and all—the executive staff, their stogees and their stogees' stogees—are happy on the Tiger staff for tomorrow is Tiger Ball and that means banqueting, dancing and recreation.

And as all the putting away was being done, indications were that this would be the biggest Tiger ball since the present staff has been at Clemson. Central Dance Association President Rhame Guyton said that the names of more than 150 girls had been placed on the dance roster last night, and more than 200 were expected to be placed in the second barracks and the Trustee House for the dances.

The series—all to the music of the Jungleers—will include a banquet for the staff and invited guests in the mess hall Friday night at nine o'clock, a formal dance Friday night from nine until two, a Saturday afternoon tea dance, free to all, from four until six, and Saturday night informal dance from eight to twelve.

Captain J. D. Harcombe, Clemson mess officer, is banquet host, and the Central Dance Association has invited Tiger guests at the banquet to the Friday night dance.

In addition to the Tiger staff's sponsors, all of the Taps Beauties, recently selected by vote of the student body, will be here for the dances to have glamor pictures made for the 1941 yearbook.

Colonel Herbert M. Pool, commandant, said that all cadets will be excused from formations while attending the dances. Dance leave rosters will be posted on all companies, and all students must sign off before the dance and on when the dances are over.

Williams Speaks On YMCA Vesper Program Sunday

Dr. B. O. Williams, Sociology department head at the University of Georgia, will speak at the YMCA vespers program Sunday, it was announced today by General MYCA Secretary P. B. Holtzendorf.

Dr. Williams until July was connected with Clemson College as professor of Rural Sociology and Statistics. He is a former member of the Clemson YMCA Advisory Board and an honorary member of the Tiger Brotherhood.

Music for the afternoon and evening programs will be furnished by a delegation of 25 girls from the Wesley Foundation Council of the Washington Street Methodist Church, Columbia. Mr. Holtzendorf said. While on the campus the group will be guests of the Clemson Wesley Foundation Council and will present a program at the Sunday School worship hour of the Methodist Church on Sunday morning.

Pool Talks To Junior Council On Present War

Colonel Herbert M. Pool, Clemson's commandant, spoke to the members of the junior YMCA council last Tuesday night in the "Z" clubroom on the present international situation. He gave a brief characterization of the events that have happened in the European war and presented some of his theories about the possible outcome of the conflict.

With reference to the United States' aid to Britain, Colonel Pool endorsed the action so far. "Our greatest problem concerning the shipment of planes and munitions to England," he said, "will be that of speeding up production to the extent that Great Britain can secure what she needs to stave off a possible German attack."

Colonel Pool said that, in his opinion, the possibility of a German invasion on American soil is not our greatest concern. He believes that Hitler can seriously interfere with the economic policy of the United States.

JOE BLALOCK

GEORGE FRITTS

Blalock, Fritts Named On U.P. All-Southern

By KEN CRIBB

Jumping Joe Blalock, stellar Clemson end, and George Fritts, workhorse of the Tiger forward wall, were named on the All-Southern Conference football team for the second successive year by coaches and sportswriters of the conference area in a poll conducted by the United States As sophomore members of the Cotton Bowl champions, Blalock and Fritts were named on practically every all-conference team last year.

Blalock, already prominently mentioned for All-America honors, polled 107 of a possible 115 votes, a record bettered only by Lalanne and Severin of the University of North Carolina. Fritts, left tackle on the Tiger team, was given the left guard position by the scribes.

Captain Bob Sharpe, center, Chippy Maness, tailback, and Char-

MANESS, SHARPE, TIMMONS lie Timmons, fullback, were chosen on the second team.

Maness, who sang his football swan song Saturday at Furman with the best individual performance of the day, has been the team's spark-plug in every game this year. While quarterbacking the Tigers to their first Conference title, Chippy has rolled up a net gain of 860 yards, just a little over 100 less than Clemson's greatest.

Alumni Directory Being Prepared

Mr. G. E. Metz, registrar, announced this week that a bulletin showing the number of Clemson graduates located in each state would soon be completed.

This information is being compiled by the registrar's office for the benefit of Clemson Alumni and also as a service to those who desire any information concerning the whereabouts of former graduates.

Mr. Metz said that the bulletin would be released in two or three weeks.

Furman-Clemson Commended For Conduct At Game

Chief of Detectives L. W. Hammond, of the Greenville police force, said that the conduct at the Clemson-Furman game last Saturday was the best that he had seen at the contest in more than fifteen years.

"We had less drunkenness, disorderly conduct, and general disorder," Mr. Hammond said, "than I have ever experienced with a crowd so large."

"I consider the excellent conduct a genuine tribute to the student bodies and supporters of both Clemson and Furman," Chief Hammond told the Tiger.

METHODISTS

The Oconee County Methodist Young People's Union will hold its regular meeting at Central on Friday, December 6, Rev. D. A. Clynburn, pastor of the Clemson Methodist Church, announced this week.

The Clemson delegation will have charge of the recreational program.

Anderson Club To Fete Tigers

Edwin Camp, "Old Timer" as he is known to sports page fans, will be the principal speaker at a banquet to be given tonight by the Anderson Kiwanis Club for its guests, the Clemson football team, Coach Howard and his staff, Dr. Frank Poole, college president, and Wright Bryan, managing editor of the Atlanta Journal.

Arrangements for the meeting were made last week-end by club President L. E. Jackson while in Atlanta. Mr. Jackson said that the members and visitors may expect an interesting address from an "old hand" like "Old Timer."

Clemson's Southern Conference Champs clinched their first conference championship Saturday with a victory over Furman. The Tigers also closed their 1940 schedule with this game.

Grantham, Bird Take Architecture Awards In Design

D. L. Grantham and Phifer Bird, juniors in architecture, placed first in the design problem for a proposed railroad station at Calhoun. Second place went to B. G. Hyder, "Glen" Miller, R. S. Woodhurst, and Jack Richards.

In the design for an Airport Tower, J. A. Kelly, Jack Richards, and D. L. Grantham received first place, while second place went to R. N. Jackson, E. L. Willmon, and K. B. Jennings.

Agronomists To Chicago Meeting

Eight members of the agronomy department will next week go to Chicago to attend the annual convention of the American Society of Agronomy and the Soil Science Society of America. The convention will run from December 4 through 7.

Headed by Dr. G. H. Collings, professor of agronomy, the group will include Drs. G. W. Killinger, W. R. Paden, and H. T. Pork, of the experiment station; Drs. T. C. Peele and W. R. Moser, of the soil conservation laboratory, and Professors R. W. Lipscomb and J. W. Jones.

Dr. Peele will present a paper on "The Influence of Microorganisms Upon Aggregation and Erodibility of Latent Soils" to the convention.

CHEMISTS INITIATE

Five new members of Alpha Chi Sigma, professional chemists society, were formally initiated last night with J. S. Mace, master at chemist, presiding. The initiates are F. S. Webster, J. O. Botts, J. R. Sosnowski, J. F. Ferguson and D. A. Bisset.

Ag Engineering Bldg., Water Works, Other Needs Requested By Officials

Total Of $151,000 Asked Of Legislature For Operation Of College During 1941 Session

(Editor's note: this article was prepared by the Tiger editors with the assistance of Business Manager J. C. Littlejohn. Our aim is to give you a complete list of Clemson's budget requests for 1941, and to tell why each item was requested.)

Clemson is the agricultural and mechanical college of South Carolina. It is also one of the Land-Grant institutions located in each of the several states. As such it is partially supported by both the State and the Federal Governments.

For the year 1939-40 the State of South Carolina provided 44.8 cents of each dollar required for the operation and maintenance of the class rooms, shops, laboratories, and the campus. The Federal Government furnished 8.4 cents. The remaining 46.8 cents of each dollar was derived from student tuition and laboratory fees, and institutional funds such as interest on Clemson Bequest, sales of lights and water and rents of residences.

The barracks, mess hall, hospital and laundry are financed entirely from student fees. The payments for these student expenses are kept in separate accounts and are used only for their operation and maintenance. Athletics is maintained from gate receipts and activity fee. Neither the State nor the college makes any appropriation for the operation of these activities.

The request for an appropriation for $151,000.00 represents the minimum needed for a growing student body. For two years the appropriation has been $130,000.00. No increase was asked of the 1940 Legislature, but with the continued growth in enrollment there is a very great need for this additional $21,000.00 to keep the teaching work on its present high plane.

This increase would be used to secure five additional associate professors and full professors, to purchase educational supplies for student use and to meet an increase in the bond and interest payment on the Agricultural Building.

FERTILIZER TAX

When Clemson was founded one of the first duties assigned it was the inspection and analysis of commercial fertilizers. The twenty-five cents per ton collected on all fertilizers sold within the State was made subject to the order of the Board of Trustees for the purpose of inspecting and analyzing this commodity and any balances were used for the "erection and maintenance" of the college. Based on sales for the past several years the estimated gross income from this source will be approximately $170,000.00. The Fertilizer Inspection Tax and the State Appropriation comprise South Carolina's contribution toward the support of Collegiate Activities.

SPECIAL REQUESTS

1. WATER SUPPLY

The Board of Trustees at the November meeting authorized three special requests to the 1941 Legislature for permanent improvements. At the head of the list was an item of $65,000.00 to supplement a W. P. A. project for construction of a new water plant to supply he needs of the college. The present plant was built when the enrollment was 1,007 students. Not only has the student body more than doubled, but many large buildings, including dormitories, have been constructed on the campus. During the past several years the water supply has become dangerously low at times, especially during the months of September and October. It is proposed to go to the Seneca River for raw water and to construct filters and laboratories which will not only serve the daily needs but which will also be used by certain of the students in their class work and by water plant operators in conducting short courses. With the aid of a W. P. A. project and by enlarging the college forces an adequate plant could be most economically constructed.

2. ENGINEERING EQUIPMENT FOR NATIONAL DEFENSE SCHOOLS

During the last four months nearly 400 young men have been given intensive short courses in the machine shop, forge shop, wood shop, automobile mechanics, welding, electricity and drawing. The college is in urgent need of additional equipment for carrying on this work not only for those selected by the Federal Government for this training, but also for the use of the regular students. The sum of $25,000.00 was asked to be used in adding equipment so as to enable the college to maintain a high grade school in connection with the National Defense Program.

3. AGRICULTURAL ENGINEERING BUILDING AND EQUIPMENT

The present Agricultural Engineering laboratory is not only inadequate, but during the cold winter weather it can not be used at times. Approximately 400 students schedule work in such subjects as farm power machinery, farm structures, soil and water conservation, rural electrification and farm mechanics. By having a suitable building, various manufacturers would place on loan around $50,000.00 worth of farm machinery without cost to the college. Such a structure could also be used in cooperation with the National Defense Program in teaching automobile mechanics and work on tractors and other similar motor vehicles. The General Assembly was asked to provide $35,000.00 to match a possible W. P. A. project in the construction and equipping of this much needed building.

THE GOVERNOR WINS—About the only man who was on the winning side in both halves of the Clemson-Furman game last week was Governor Burnet R. Maybank. Governor Maybank sat on the Furman side during the first half, and on the Clemson side during the second—the winning-half. It was a tense moment for (left to right) Dr. Frank Poole, president, Governor Maybank, Mrs. Maybank, Mrs. Frank Poole and Dr. R. C. Grier as the picture was snapped by staff photographer Bob Hufford. Colonel Herbert M. Pool is looking between Dr. Poole and Governor Maybank, Mrs. Pool is looking over Mrs. Maybank's head, and Major Heyward Mahon, of Greenville, is standing back of Mrs. Frank Poole.

Location Uncertain, Clemson Statue Dedication Postponed

Exuberant Howard Mugs Blalock's Muddy Mug

With 18,000 people looking on, Clemson's Coach Frank Howard planted a resounding kiss on Joe Blalock's cheek when the Tiger All-American end candidate came out of the Furman game last week.

In the second quarter Blalock had caught a 20 yard pass for Clemson first touchdown. In the fourth quarter he caught a 23 yard pass and lateraled to Aubrey Rion who went 30 more yards for the winning tally. The latter play gave Clemson a 13 to 7 victory and crowned the Tigers Southern Conference champions.

Shingles Awarded To Honor Writers

Certificates of membership were this week awarded to members of Gamma Alpha Mu, Clemson Honor Writers' Fraternity, by Professor John D. Lane, faculty adviser of the group.

Officers of the fraternity are: J. S. Mace, of Charleston, president, and Mitchell F. Simmons, of Greer, secretary and treasurer. D. A. Bisset, of Savannah, is historian. Members of the fraternity are: W. T. Trammel, of Anderson, R. P. Timmerman, of Greenville, F. E. Rogers, of Darlington, J. J. Lever, of Columbia, C. C. Elphick, of Greenville, G. E. Williams, of Greenville, and W. S. McDonald, of Georgetown.

Other members are: J. H. McCoy, from Sumter, L. D. Rogers, of Spartanburg, H. L. Cooler, from Kingstree, and B. A. Chesochowski of New York.

The fraternity is sponsored by Dr. Octavius Roy Cohen, nationally known author, who is a Clemson alumnus. Membership in the fraternity is open to any student who submits to Professor Lane any two acceptable manuscripts in the following fields: journalism, fiction, poetry or belles lettres. The manuscripts are judged by Dr. Cohen. All entries this year must be submitted before the Christmas holidays.

Dairy Clubbers Hear Eve, Collins

Pinkey Eve and Edwin Collins, junior and freshman winners of last year's Danforth awards, spoke to the Dairy Club Thursday night on the advantages and purposes of the Danforth scholarships.

Collins was the only freshman in the country to win a full scholarship last year.

Committee Named To Decide Spot

Blue Key President Edgar Ross this week announced that the unveiling and dedication of the Thomas G. Clemson statue which is being presented to the college by the Clemson student body, has been indefinitely postponed until the administration has decided upon a "suitable location" for the edifice.

Dr. R. F. Poole, college president, last week named a committee of faculty and administration men who investigated the project but declined to act. Instead they suggested that Dr. Poole appoint a committee of practicing architects from Anderson, Greenville, and Spartanburg to view the statue and suggest a location on the Clemson campus.

"We are ready to stage the dedication ceremonies as soon as the location has been decided upon," President Ross said.

Judge J. Strom Thurmond, of Edgefield, national alumni president, and Dr. Enoch Walter Sikes, Clemson's president emeritus, are scheduled to speak at the dedication exercises.

Seven Sophs Tapped By Rifles

Informal initiation of seven Pershing Rifle alternates began Monday when the local company tapped them as replacements for sophomores who failed to return to school.

They are J. L. Hollingsworth, L. H. Cary, J. T. Lazear, J. P. Williams, B. E. Kratzer, Jr., H. L. Kirby and D. Sosa.

Freshman elimination for membership will not begin until after Christmas this year, Walker Gardner, first sergeant, said today. The eliminations have been postponed, Gardner said, to avoid conflict with the hold-over platoon eliminations.

Zoo To Put On Air Raid Here

The Senior Class of the Women's College of Greenville will present their annual stunt night here next Thursday night, Roy Pearce, president of the Clemson Senior Class, which is sponsoring the program, said today.

The stunt, "Air Raid", was presented with success at the Women's College, and will be put on here as a result of the many requests to have them come here, Pearce said.

Courson Awarded Debating Honor From Last Year

President Robert L. Stoddard, of the Calhoun Forensic society, was this week informed that Jack Courson, agronomy junior from Clarksville, Ga., last year placed second in the direct clash debating contest at the Dixie Forensic Tournament at Winthrop in March.

Mr. Courson is again representing Clemson this year as a direct class debater and will participate in the Dixie Forensic Tourney next week, Stoddard said.

Other Clemson representatives as named by Stoddard are: A. L. Brooks, Timmons-ville, R. L. Stoddard, Owings, O. A. Mays, Columbia, J. M. Klineck, Savannah, D. B. Wentzel, Clemson, S. K. Able, Saluda, C. W. Elvington, Nichols, and H. R. Mays, Columbia, debaters; Jimmie J. Lever, Columbia, will do impromptu and extempore, and L. B. Osborne, Hartsville, will orate.

Clemson Officials To N. C. Meeting

Dr. G. H. Aull, professor of Agriculture Economics; Prof. J. E. Hunter, professor of Mathematics; Mr. P. B. Holtzendorf, secretary of the YMCA; all of Clemson, and Mr. Wm. Law Watkins, prominent young lawyer of Anderson, attended the Interstate Convention of the YMCA's of North Carolina and South Carolina meeting at Kannapolis, N. C., Tuesday.

BY THEIR WORDS—

You could possibly bust this course—

—Hicks.

When I look at your faces I know that I have skimmed the ignorance of South Carolina's ignorance.

—Lippincott.

You may never learn very much about this course, but you can never say that you have not been told.

—Emanuel.

I had a very bad case of stage fright when I was five years old, and it seems that I've never gotten over it.

—Gee.

If you fellows are chemists, I'd hate to turn bottle washers loose in this laboratory.

—Lindsay.

You fellows would sit there and let me say anything.

—Pollard.

Let's Dance . . .
The Tiger staff is weary. We've worked, planned, at times slaved since last February when we inherited this paper from resigning hands. In kaleidoscopic procession we've seen the thrilling events of our senior year whirl by. The Charlotte trip, Homecoming, the State Fair, and the Furman game are history. And tomorrow night comes the feast and the dancing—we, of The Tiger staff celebrate a job well done—or almost done and almost satisfactory—and for the night we'll forget the worries of the hectic world of deadlines and headlines, of rewrites and copy-rights, of dingbats and deadbeats. For one night we'll assume our best Rhet Butler attitude and let the rest of the world go by. We believe we've earned it. At any rate they gave us a cup for coming out on time, or something. Come on, chilluns, let's dance.

Let's Junk The Junk!
Key totin' sophomores are this year more conspicuous and more heavy laden than at any time since our arrival at Clemson. The first thing we learned about in those days was "senior privileges"—whatever they might have been. We also understood that ACTIVITY KEYS were awards which we would receive at Clemson for ACHIEVEMENTS, and that the wearing of keys was one of those "senior privileges", shared only by members of the junior class. Conditions have changed though. We now find that every other sophomore is lugging around enough gold and bronze and brass and sterling to make a junk dealer's mouth water—even freshmen are proudly flaunting their prep school awards as evidence of their prowess in athletics, oratory, scholarship or just plain "general excellence."

Also in evidence are the bare key chains of many of our outstanding activities men. They have long ago quit trying to vie with the attainments of our "club joining sophomores."

This newspaper suggests that the wearing of keys be made strictly SENIOR privilege and that the Senior Council be delegated to draft a list of official keys. This list should include only keys of organizations which come under the category of service, scholarship, or honor groups.

We believe that if this policy is adhered to, that keys will regain lost prestige and come to have a real significance instead of remaining sophomore ego inflators and lucrative racket for college jewelers.

Furman-Clemson Relations
Last week we predicted with our fingers crossed that it wouldn't happen. This week we say with a lot of pride that it DIDN'T happen.

The IT that we refer to, is the brawl that might have happened before, after, or during the Furman game.

This newspaper interprets the conduct at the game as an indication that the Clemson-Furman rivalry has reached the stage of clean, sincere athletic rivalry—but not a bitter affair that must be settled with fist, club, or brick fights after the two teams have settled the issue on the football field.

We repeat that there is no cause for a feud or brawl at the Furman game. The contest takes place on the football field, and there is no room for scenes elsewhere.

The conduct at the game Saturday was a tribute to the gentlemanliness of both the Furman and Clemson student bodies. We hope that that same high calibre of conduct will be encouraged and practiced—at the game next year and in years to come—Amen.

THE TIGER this week salutes Coach FRANK HOWARD and his hustling band of footballers for bringing the Southern Conference football crown to Clemson—and to South Carolina—for the first time.

Going into the conference battles last fall as a team lightly regarded among the top contenders, Coach HOWARD's battlers defeated four consecutive conference foes to remain the only undefeated team in one of the most unpredictable conference races ever.

Experts said that the loss of BANKS McFADDEN, SHAD BRYANT, JOE PAYNE and other graduating stars, and Head Coach JESS NEELY would leave the Tiger too badly crippled to cope with teams like Wake Forest, Duke, and the University of North Carolina.

We didn't play North Carolina and Duke, but we did do all right against Wake Forest—which had beaten North Carolina; and North Carolina beat Duke.

Coach HOWARD has made genuine honors during his freshman year as head coach at Clemson, and it is with optimism that this newspaper looks forward to his sophomore year.

Great Spirit
Enthusiasm and school spirit just prior to the Furman game and during that game was at the highest ebb Clemson folk have ever seen.

Much credit is due the Company commanders for arranging the pep sign displays—they added much and should be continued—to the cheer leaders, Howard Zerst and Fritz Dent, especially, to Dr. Sikes and Dr. Poole for their chapel meeting pep talks, the Clemson band under the able leadership of George Bonnette, Bob Dukes, Bob Henderson and Lewis Cox, and to every Clemson man who helped stage the greatest pep rally in Clemson history!

It was a glorious occasion and a thrilling one for seniors who sadly lamented that it was their last college pep rally.

We are confident that school spirit and enthusiasm—both that of the cadet corps and the football team—was the decisive margin in Saturday's encounter.

Buy Christmas Seals!
The world of tomorrow is something which catches the imagination of all of us at some particular time. We like to envisage its planes and its contours, the achievements of science, and the perfections of man which will fashion the terrestrial realm nearer to our idea of Utopia. We hope that the world of tomorrow will be a better place to live in than the world of today—that our experience and that of those who have gone before us will have smoothed out the rough places for our children and for our children's children.

From out of the box of Pandora disease came to blight the hopes and happiness of mankind. In our world of tomorrow each one of us would want to reduce suffering and illness to the least possible minimum. At this time of year we have an opportunity to be practical about that desire. It is one thing to wish and another to do. Christmas Seals are now on sale, Christmas Seals which have sponsored a movement for many years to bring about a worthy goal—the gradual eradication of tuberculosis. Our world of today is still struggling against a powerful enemy in this dread disease. Tomorrow's world need have none of it, if we have a real desire to conquer it. Buy Christmas Seals!

It Can't Happen Here
We're agin' anything serious happening, but we wonder if Professor Ferrier, Professor Bill Hicks and Professor Bob Gee could get beamed sometime early Saturday morning and forget to meet those classes. Not that we wish them a lump on the head, but our heads are going to be in bad shape to be meeting four hour classes Saturday—after Tiger ball—and our cuts are already taken.

Talk of the Town
By Mitchell Simmons

If the game last Saturday is a true indication, the rivalry between Clemson and Furman has at least reached the stage of keen, but not bitter, athletic rivalry.

For, although the competition in the game was the keenest in many years, not an incident occurred during or after the game to give either school a serious black eye. It is true that Clemson students made a bit of noise after the game, but what school wouldn't celebrate after winning a game packed with the thrills of the Furman-Clemson contest?

The game was truly a tribute to both teams and both student bodies. Fewer games have ever been harder fought, and rivalry has seldom been keener. Cheers from both sides of the stadium rocked Greenville as Greenville had never been rocked before by college yells.

For Clemson, the game completed the most successful season that any South Carolina football team has enjoyed in a lot of years. The team was not rated as highly as last year's Cotton Bowl champions, but it was the first team to ever bring the Southern Conference championship to South Carolina, and that in anybody's book is success.

At the beginning of the season, few even listed Clemson among the top contenders for the Southern Conference championship. We had lost too many stars from last year's team—Banks McFadden, Shad Bryant, Joe Payne and Jess Neely had graduated, and Freshman Frank Howard had taken over with a group of fair to average backfield men, and a lot of holes to be filled up in the line.

The same men who were reluctant to select Clemson as one of the contenders for the conference crown at the beginning of the year, however, are now heaping praise on Freshman Howard and his crew as a modest, hard fighting group of Country Gentlemen.

We have predicted from the beginning that this year's team was going places. It did. And with a few breaks, we might have even gone further. Or with a few less broken bones and pulled muscles, we could have gone further.

Against Wake Forest, the first, second and third teams were all invincible. That brand of football would have beaten even mighty Tulane. But we had too many tough teams on the schedule who were running for Tiger meat. Tulane played their best game of the year against us, Auburn played one of their best—and were aided by several breaks, and Southwestern just played better football than they were doped for.

The season is over, however, and not even the most rabid or exacting alumni has a beef with Coach Howard. He has taken over and turned out a team that even Coach Neely might have been proud of this year. Some think that he has even done better than Mr. Neely would have done with the same material.

Coach Howard has won the confidence of the players, the student body, and the alumni—without an alibi—even when an alibi would have been legitimate.

During the week of practice, several of the star players on the team were either completely out of the game with injuries, or were on "light duty" practice. When the student who was writing the daily release for the Associated Press asked whether he could say several of the men were not in top condition, he said no. "It would only hurt the gate," Coach Howard said, "and there is no use publicizing our injuries when there is nothing we can do about it—just write that we practiced again today."

That is the attitude of Coach Howard.

From Other Camps
By JUDSON CHAPIN
Last week we had the feminine opinion on the better type of male. This week we have the tabulation of a popular vote taken at Davidson which proves that the average bachelor of today desires a gal that can cook in preference to a blonde.

Blondes may have been the gentleman's choice a few years back, but today the girl who can cook has little trouble finding a husband. As time passes through periods of financial depression, a young man's fancy wanders to more sensible, if less fair, things. One freshman at Davidson, upon being quizzed as to his preference, replied that he preferred the blonde as he has yet to meet a girl that can cook. A junior, more diversified in the domestic ways of the world, stated that the only good cook (not counting the girls over thirty) that he had ever met was a blonde. Aside from these few exceptions, the average man seems to prefer the cook.

The fact that students, or eligible bachelors, prefer domestication is borne out through a study made by appointment bureaus in various universities. Women graduates who have done economics training are easily placed as teachers. Requests for home economics teachers have been double the number of eligible graduates. The reason for this is that the turnover in the field of home economics is high because the average teacher marries within three years. Teachers of languages run lowest for their field is overrun.

There you have it. If you are sensibly inclined and an economist at heart, you will concentrate your interests on the gal that is taking home economics.

NICE EXPLAINING
Fred Taylor, captain of the University of Vermont football team, skipped practice the other day because he was sick. He explained that he had to get married.

Shoot the SHOW
By GUS WHAM
FRIDAY NIGHT AND SATURDAY AFTERNOON, "HULLABALOO"—Frank Morgan is here again! This time in the boomest radio show in his career. He's the nuttiest nut that's ever been cracked as he mimics everybody from Mickey Rooney to Hedy Lamarr. Virginia Grey, Dan Dailey, Billie Burke, and Nidia Westman add more giggles to the funniest merry-go-round this year has seen as they cut their antics behind the scenes of radio. It's real fun, boys, don't miss it!

SATURDAY NIGHT, "SANDY GETS HER MAN" AND "WORLD IN FLAMES"
A big double feature that's bound to give you your money's worth. Baby Stuart, Stuart Erwin, Una Merkel and William Frerking are the top stars in "Sandy Gets Her Man." As the story goes, Fireman Stuart Erwin and Police Officer Jack Carson are rivals for the hand of Una Merkel. Each hopes to marry Miss Merkel so that her father, William Davidson, city finance officer will award their departments huge appropriations. They all agree to let Baby Sandy choose the man. He makes the right choice and everyone is happy. "World in Flames" is a 60 minutes reel of news of the last ten years and tells the story of world affairs from the lush prosperity of days of 1929 to the present Battle of England. It is the camera's recording of scenes which have highlighted the world's trend to war, and is a devastating indictment of those responsible for the present situation. It's really a show that every true American should see. So leave that date off Saturday night and dash down to Holtz's hideout instead of down to Monday.

MONDAY, "COMING AROUND THE MOUNTAIN"
A 72 minute comedy with Bob Burns, Una Merkel, Jerry Colonna and Don Wilson in the leading roles. This is Bob Burns' last picture in his contract with Paramount and is rated better than average. Plot: Burns, a hillbilly who has earned a living of sorts as a salesman and auctioneer, takes his partner, Bill Demarest, on a visit to his family in the hills. While there, Demarest conceives the idea of selling Burns' relatives to a sponsor because of their super rendition of hillbilly music. In his mix-up that follows, Burns is elected mayor of the town in which the broadcasting station is located and his relatives turn out to be high-flying radio stars. The comedy is one of the better comedies of the year.

TUESDAY, "HICKED WIFE"
She married the boss for his convenience and then things start popping. Rosalind Russell, Brian Aherne's secretary, is in love with him but Aherne is in love with Virginia Bruce. When business reasons make it necessary for him to put everything in his wife's name Aherne decides to marry Virginia, but through Rosalind's trickery, Virginia says "no." So he marries Rosalind. Things don't work out so well and a divorce is on the way when Aherne realizes that he was mistaken and is really in love with Rosalind. Rating: Fair.

WEDNESDAY, PIER NO. 13—
A good cops-and-robbers picture that will keep you interested if nothing else. Lynn Bari, Lloyd Nolan, and Joan Valerie play the

—that he wonders what Charlotte girl was embarrassed last week by the old faithful "Spin the Bottle" game. She blushed several minutes and named Romeo Gilmore as her heart throb.

—that he was amused this week when three Clemson cadets—two sophs and a senior—returned from Seneca riding in the front seat and their three dates in the back.

—that he wonders if "Who's Who" Guyton took off his uniform before he disposed of his purchase from the "package-store" in Greenville last week-end.

—that "I" wanted to be a big shot! Burley doesn't rate this column, but his actions of last week-end rate him a streamer story in any high-school dirt-sheet.

—Girls, if you want to be "Rip" Braddock all you have to do is call him and ask him to meet you at the Grill at 11:30. He'll even wait til midnight.

—the weather will have to moderate before this week-end or there won't be any "snakes" left in the corps—or maybe they'll have their blankets.

—Oscar ain't got a date yet, but he doesn't anticipate any trouble.

—Oscar apologizes to the girls in North Dormitory—he meant Bancroft.

—Prof. Gee is very diplomatic—it's good Oscar likes him.

—that McLeod's name has been ordered changed to "Red Dog" by Margie of Brenau. See Bill Hall for particulars.

—that Prof. Musser's daughter has talked Rat "Gabriel" Barnwell into changing to Agriculture.

—that Simpson's most outstanding achievement to date is not doing anything lately to rate this column.

—that Jimmy Garner's "Epicurean" at least don't brag about doing nothing.

—J. P. Hodges has contracted a new disease—"Earleyitis."

—that the Zoo seniors should bring a good supply of talent over when they come to give their stunts. If there's one thing we like about stunts, it's a lot of talent.

—that "Ham" should do more fighting and less talking then maybe J. I. Gregory wouldn't have to run so fast when the Zoo gets after him.

—that if all of the army officers were as nice as Col. Pool he (Oscar) wouldn't mind joining the regular army as a private.

—that Ed. Ross (No. 1) carried a date to the game and forgot to sit with her.

—that the Clemson boys are certainly rushing the Central school teachers—especially the lady in red.

—that "Drop-Shot" Crotch is spending all of his time in Central—half of it teaching and the other half with the telephone operator.

—that "Chick" Dunham and Prof. Pitts were seen double dating together—that rayon course must be all right.

—that he forgot to mention last week that the press convention boys put on a zig-zag show for the people in Greenville.

—that when more lights are built, or when wetter lights are built—they will be installed in the Winthrop dating parlors.

—that Big Job Langford had best get the stogies lined up to mail the Tigers early this week—else Ethyl might have to mail Tigers instead of going to Tiger ball.

—that Jack Benfield does get the cutest proposals (marriage, and no kidding) from Converse—even if it is leap year.

—that Dog Christopher finally got the reply to his Tiger ball invitation to Converse, and the answer was NO. Could be that Converse has heard of Dodge's Zoo activities.

—that the Zoo seniors should bring a good supply of talent over when they come to give their stunts. If there's one thing we like about stunts, it's a lot of talent.

Greenville Alumni Honor Football Team

Mr. J. H. Woodward, secretary of the Alumni Association, announced that the Greenville Chapter of the Clemson Alumnae Association will honor the football team with a banquet on December 3 in Greenville.

Mr. Woodward said that farewell presents will be presented to all the graduating members of the team.

The principal speaker of the evening will be Burke Davis, sports editor of the Charlotte News.

Registrar's Staff To Hartsville Meet

Registrar G. E. Metz and assistants, John W. Lagrone and Kenneth Vickery, will attend the convention of the South Carolina Association of Collegiate Registrars in Hartsville, Friday. Coker College is the host school.

Sears Club Hears Toxicologist Webb

Dr. H. J. Webb, state toxicologist and head of the fertilizer analysis work at Clemson, last week spoke to the members of the Sears Scholarship Club at their regular monthly meeting in the agricultural auditorium.

Dr. Webb told of some cases of human poisoning and explained the procedures and methods of analysis that are used to determine the various kinds of poisoning.

Bob Stoddard, vice president of the club, presided.

Campbell, S. O. Strubling, R. D. Ross, Roy Davenport, and D. B. Campbell.

Students Practise Reconstruction

HAMILTON, N. Y.—(ACP)—Four projects meant to develop the spirit of voluntary community service and prepare students for participation in post-war reconstruction work have been started at Colgate University. Twenty-one students are participating.

One group is felling and sawing trees and splitting firewood for nearby country churches.

Another is constructing a picnic grove for the village of Hamilton, a project involving clearing brush, leveling trees, planting shrubs and building fireplaces and tables. Many of the men in these groups had never handled an axe before they volunteered for the weekly "service parties."

More direct preparation for reconstruction work is a ten-week Red Cross first aid course being given with a view toward possible service abroad.

The fourth project is planned for spring, when trees will be planted on Hamilton's watershed near the village. This work will serve to beautify the pond and to decrease flood dangers.

When weather conditions get severe the students will turn their attention to redecorating halls in villages near Hamilton, shoveling snow for the aged and indigent and helping farmers who have fallen ill.

"The projects," says Kenneth E. Boulding, instructor in economics, "have been worked out because we believe that the best way to establish community spirit is to have people work together. Our boys, for instance, have an entirely new appreciation of the farmers and their problems since working and talking with the rural people on the wood cutting project."

3 Tigers Make NC State All Opponent

RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 26.—Three Clemson Tigers, Southern Conference champions, and three players from the Southeastern Conference power, Mississippi State, landed on the All-Opponent team of the N. C. State eleven, compiled today from votes by the 17 ranking squad members.

The All-Opponent team: Bialock, Clemson, and Elrod, Mississippi State, ends.

Ruffa, Duke, and Fritts, Clemson, tackles. Cohen, Mississippi State, and Winterson, Duke, guards.

Pendergrast, Wake Forest, center. Lalane, North Carolina, Johnson, Mississippi State, Gallovich, Wake Forest, and SHR 93 82 82826 Wake Forest, and Timmons, Clemson, backs.

Alpha Chi Sigma Fraternity Men To Hear Lecture

W. D. Smith and J. T. Potter, both representing Hall laboratories, will speak at a special program being arranged by Alpha Chi Sigma Friday night.

Mr. Smith and Mr. Potter will discuss the methods of preparing hard water for textile, commercial and domestic use. Reels illustrating the talks will also be shown. MbataTschmfw shrdlu 04 93 82 82

MOVIE

A motion picture depicting the gathering of raw materials and the manufacture of rubber insulated wire and cables will be shown at the YMCA at 12:15 Wednesday. The picture will be presented under the auspices of the Okemite Company, makers of insulated cables.

Dr. Cromer S. Woodward, professor of sociology at Emory University, has a collection of over 100 miniature donkeys.

New York University has formed a separate department of higher education, which will train graduate students to teach in colleges and universities.

Business administration and secretarial science have the heaviest freshman registration at Westminster College.

Athletes are potentially better automobile drivers than nonathletes, according to tests at Pennsylvania State College.

A farmer's son is more likely to follow his father's occupation than the son of a man in some other kind of work, according to a survey at Cornell University.

Ninety-five per cent of students at Mount Holyoke College plan on a period of wage-earning after graduation.

Soph Chemists Get New Lab For Analytical Chm.

A new analytical laboratory has been constructed in the chemistry building at a cost of $7,000. Dr. P. H. H. Calhoun, dean of the chemistry department, announced this week.

The new lab will be used for sophomore courses in qualitative and quantitative analysis, which are taught by Professor Bill Lippincott. New desks, designed by Prof. Lippincott, were constructed in the college workshop under the supervision of Dave Watson, grounds and buildings superintendent. Full facilities for the new technique of micro-analysis in qualitative chemistry have been installed.

Said Prof. Lippincott, "We expect the new lab to be a great improvement over the alchemist's den which we have been using for some years now."

Jones Takes Post Lightsey Leaves

Harold J. Lightsey, '40, graduate assistant in botany and bacteriology, this week accepted a position as agronomist for the Dixie Fertilizer Company in Lumburg, N. C.

C. M. Jones, '39, graduate in agronomy, is taking Lightsey's place as assistant to Dr. W. B. Aull, vice dean of the school of agriculture. Jones received his M. S. in soils at Cornell University last year.

Carnegie Society Honors Bolin

Paul Bolin, pre-medical student from Orangeburg, was this week elected vice-president of the Carnegie Music Society. Bolin is vice-president of the Glee Club, and a member of the band.

Bolin had charge of the weekly Carnegie meeting, presenting Tschakowsky's Fourth Symphony. This is the first of a series of famous symphonies to be studied by the society.

Majority Students Attend All Classes Survey Discloses

By Student Opinion Surveys AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 27.—How serious is the problem of class cutting? Are many college students wasting their time by failing to appear at lectures? How often does the average student cut classes?

These are questions that have perhaps been answered locally in many schools, but a national study, as far as is known, has heretofore never been possible. Student Opinion Surveys of America, leaving the field of social and political issues this week, has used its cost to cost structure to measure the extent of class cutting going on today on the American campus.

The survey reveals that a good majority (62 per cent.) during a typical week in October attended all their classes. The remainder of the students interviewed (38 per cent.) declared that they had cut at least one. But over half of these (20 per cent.) missed class only one time during the week.

Here are the national tabulations: Cut no classes during week.....62% Cut one class.....20% Cut two classes.....10% Cut three classes.....4% Cut four or more classes.....4%

Less than one per cent of the students refused to answer the question or did not remember. Tests conducted by the surveys have shown that on questions such as this very few students fail to give truthful answers; so the results above should give a satisfactory indication of conditions over the nation. The entire United States is represented because the schools in which the polls are conducted, including Clemson College, make up a proportionate sample of all types of educational institutions as listed by the U. S. Office of Education.

In connection with this poll, it may be recalled that last February 64 per cent of the collegians in a survey expressed the opinion that compulsory class attendance should be abolished.

Although the frequency of attendance is quite uniform from one section of the country to another, New Englanders and Southerners appear to be at the two extremes. In the north-east corner of the United States are at a minimum, only 25 per cent of the students having missed one or more class during the week of the poll. In the South over half of them, 57 per cent said they had cut at least once.

BOMBARDIER.—Former Clemson student Henry L. Law, Jr., of Hartsville, S. C., who has just been graduated from the nation's first Bombardier's Instruction School, and commissioned a second lieutenant in the Air Corps Reserve. He has been assigned to temporary duty at Lowry Field, Colorado. Law is a brother of Cadet William C. Law, of the Clemson Band company.

Education Journal Carries Article By Dr. Alexander

Dr. Frank Alexander, associate professor of Sociology and Psychology, recently published an article in the Peabody Journal of Education on "Education In One Rural Community."

Using as an example a small community in southwestern Tennessee, some of Dr. Alexander's findings include:

"The average number of movies attended by school children was one per month. A large proportion of farm owners offer opportunities for their members to be influenced by books, newspapers, magazines, radio, vacations, and travel. First and average salaries of the community school teachers range from $50 to $90.

Singing conventions, representing distinctly folk gatherings, constitute the primary means by which the musical achievement among the people is encouraged. Dr. Alexander concludes that this community is typically the same as other American rural communities.

Union Meeting At YMCA Sunday

Pinckney Eve, president of the Y, announced this week that the YMCA Cabinet and Advisory Board will hold a joint meeting Sunday with Evening Watch and Freshmen Forum leaders.

Sergeants, Company Commanders and A and R Officers for the representation of keys to the Cabinet members.

Each member of the Cabinet will report on the phase of work he has been connected with. These will include: Pinckney Eve reporting on Conferences; Hobby Holzfors and Jimmy Skardon, publicity; Don Wentzel and Ed Garrison, Religious Programs; Raymond Sellers, Jack Lytton, Givens Young, and Julian Dunsenbury, reporting on Evening Watch; Bill Autrey, Howard Driver, Dick Sosnowski, and David Bissett, Freshmen Forum; A. L. Brooks and Jack Courson, Deputations; Ed Young and Theo Gage, Socials; L. C. Veen, Music; Nelson Jackson, Transportation; DeWitt Ross and Harry Sturges, Membership; and Jimmy Lever giving a talk on his work as Contact Specialist.

All Companies Give To Orphanage Fund

Sixteen companies have contributed $31.87 to the annual drive to collect money for the support of the Connie Maxwell Orphanage of the Baptist church, local BSU President E. L. Young, of Florence announced this week. "Each year the Baptist conference in South Carolina promoted this drive," Young said, "and this year most of the cadet companies in the barracks have responded liberally. There are, however, several companies who have not yet reported, but they are expected to respond immediately."

The list of the companies contributing and the amounts are: Company C-2, $2.60; Company G-1, $2.53; Band Company, $2.10; Company I-2, 68c; Company A-1, $1.65; Company B-1, $2.89; Company L-2, $1.58; Company K-2, $2.21; Company E-2, 50c; Company H-2, $1.00; Company K-1, $4.00; Company F-1, $2.45; Company E-2, $1.85; Company C-1, $3.25; Company L-1, $1.35; and Company E-1, $1.18.

Brady Flying For Uncle Sam In California

HAMILTON FIELD, Cal.—Lieutenant William P. Brady, of Columbia, South Carolina, has just reported to his first duty station after successful completion of the Army Air Corps flying training, according to an announcement by the commanding officer of Hamilton Field, California.

Lieutenant Brady, who is the son of Mr. H. G. Brady of 815 Woodrow Street, Columbia, South Carolina, was born in Columbia. He attended Columbia High School from 1933 to 1936 and graduated from Porter Military Academy in Charleston, A. C. Clemson, where he was a student for two and one-half years in the class of '41. Lieut. Brady was first sergeant of the athletic company, a member of the junior CDA, and a member of the freshman basketball and football teams.

In 1939 he received the much coveted appointment to Randolph Field, the Army's famous "West Point of the Air," and graduated with the wings of a military aviator and a commission as second lieutenant, Air Reserve on October 4, 1940.

Lieutenant Brady is assigned to the 55th Pursuit Squadron (Fighter), at Hamilton Field, California, where he will serve as a pilot of

W. P. BRADY one of the Army's fast P-40 pursuit planes.

Xmas Seal Sale Begun On Campus

Mrs. Glenn D. Hufford, chairman, today announced that Anti-Tuberculosis Christmas seals had been mailed to all campus families, thereby affording them an easy opportunity to contribute to that charity.

"One hundred seals were sent to each family," Mrs. Hufford said, "and 23,000 seals have been placed on sale in barracks."

Tillie Haywood, YMCA desk secretary, was the first person to return his $100 for the seals together with a note which read: "Dear Mrs. Hufford, thank you for the privilege of contributing to such a worthy cause," Tillie.

Winter Weather Indicated By Migrating Geese

A flock of Canada geese were observed in flight over the campus last week enroute to warmer climates, according to Professor R. E. Ware, of the zoology department. In charge of the bird banding work of the United States Biological Survey at Clemson, Professor Ware said that because of the extremely warm climate this fall the geese are migrating later than usual.

For the past several years Professor Ware has banded birds for the survey and recently he has received reports that his birds have been captured in places as far south as Cuba and as far north as Michigan. Other states reporting similar instances include Pennsylvania, Mississippi, Ohio, Tennessee, Florida, and Illinois.

Within the next few weeks Professor Ware and his assistants will attempt to band other flocks of migrating birds at Lake Isa-queena.

Robert Paton Longden, headmaster of Wellington College, England, was killed recently by a German bomb.

Morningside College seniors Fred Davenport and Gary Walman, who were tied in the all-campus election, are serving in a dual role as class president.

Hunter College recently dedicated its $5,500,000 building.

AMHERST, Mass.—(ACP)—Used from 1933 to 1935 by Admiral Richard E. Byrd on his last Arctic expedition, an instrument known as a sounding balloon theodolite has been purchased by Amherst College for its astronomy department. Students in meteorology and navigation will use the apparatus for determining wind velocity and direction over the Connecticut valley.

Professor Dunavan gave a talk on "Honey Plants of South Carolina," comparing the differences in honey produced in the mountains and Piedmont sections of South Carolina as compared with that of the coastal plains. Representatives from 28 states were present at the convention.

While there, Professor Dunavan visited the Tarpin Springs fishery, one of the largest sponge hatcheries in the world.

John Lane Led And Organized Hop Orchestra

Central Dance Association President Rhame Guyton announced today that the College "N" Orchestra, of Newberry College will play for the annual Christmas hop series here December 13-14. The series will feature a Friday night formal, and a Saturday afternoon tea dance and Saturday night informal. Guyton said that the roster for the dance will be posted next week. Dates of the Central Dance Association will sponsor for the affair.

The College "N" Orchestra is one of the most popular small orchestras in the South, Guyton said. The group played at a South Carolina beach resort last summer. They have played popular engagements at the Isle of Palms, the Myrtle Beach Casino, and the Folly Beach Pier.

The College "N" group was originally organized by Professor John D. Lane, of the Clemson English department, during his student days at Newberry. Professor Lane first played the piano, but later took over one of the horns, and led from that position. Several directors have led the outfit since Dr. Lane graduated. C. A. Cushman is now director of the group.

Fritts, Blalock

athlete, Bonnie Banks McFadden, reeled off in his best year. His average on punts was just three yards short of McFadden's.

Red-headed Bob Sharpe completed his second year as first string center Saturday with the same jam-up defensive game and faultless passing that he has turned in game after game this year. The long, tall captain of the Tigers made the short pass over the Clemson line a practically useless weapon for opponents this year by batting down one after another and intercepting several. Charlie Timmons was the defensive star in all of the late season games this season, in addition to racking up a good part of the Tiger's total gain. Timmons, a junior, will return to the line-up next year along with Fritts and Blalock.

Here are the first and second team line-ups, with the figures in parentheses indicating the total votes each player received.

the backfield mainstays. Roy started with a determination to show on and all that a fellow does not necessarily have to be big to be an effective blocking back, and he has successfully accomplished that aim. At 175 pounds, Roy packs the power of a 190-pounder, and has cleared the way for many Clemson tallies. Aubrey also set out to break down a barrier that of being a good player and yet looking anything like one. Needless to say, he has done just that, and has established a fine record for himself. Between the two of them, Roy and Aubrey have set a grand example for all who are handicapped, but who love their football.

Hugh Webb was without a doubt the most under-rated person in the squad and he has done a good job of upsetting the apple cart. No one expected to see Hugh playing first string end, but when things started rolling, there he was big as life holding down the varsity berth. He has accomplished that which is rarely seen, and has set himself down as the perfect example of a determined "under pup".

The guard positions vacated by Frank Dietz and Charley Tisdale will be the hardest spots to fill next fall. These two have showed their heels to all opposing linemen, and have made the Tiger line a hard one to beat. Power and speed have been the keynote of their successes, and they were always in there breaking up the enemy plays before they ever started. Their loss will be great for it has been a long time since the Tigers have boasted a pair of linemen such as these two.

The unanimous choice of a swell fellow all around falls on Jim Blessing, another great end, who has done more in his understudy part than many thought possible. Jim was forced to play with a troublesome shoulder all season, but when the going got tough, he was in there hitting as hard if not harder than the next fellow.

Over 1,000 Prints Already On File

The Bamma Lambda chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, National Scouters Fraternity, will continue the program of finger-printing the student body which was begun last year. It was announced last week by Bill Awtry, president of the organization.

Nearly a thousand cadets of the present student body were finger-printed last spring in addition to those finger-printed who graduated. Those leaves over thirteen hundred to be identified this year. The Scouters aim to record every finger-print in school before they stop.

Awtry announced that a committee composed of Frank Thames, chairman, George Adickes, John Hare, Buddy Smith, and John Sanders will direct the work. They plan to begin early next week and hope to be through within a month. A different system will be tried this year. The committee members will go from room to room after long roll in order to see everybody.

The records will be added to the thousand Clemson prints already on file in the Civilian Division of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

O. Henry Memorial Award Prize Stories of 1940, Selected and Edited by Harry Hansen.

This 22nd annual volume, the first published in 1919, gives us the best short stories of the year as selected from numerous national magazines. Mr. Hansen, literary editor of the New York World Telegram, keeps in close contact with story writing and his selections present to us the best technique of our day.

Prize-winners in previous years, of this award that commemorates the career of O. Henry, include Sherwood Anderson, Pearl Buck, John Steinbeck, Elizabeth Madrox, and Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings.

This year the judges, who beside Mr. Hansen, include Dorothy Brewster, professor of English at Columbia University; J. T. Frederick; and Fred T. Marsh, special reviewer for the N. Y. Times and New York Herald Tribune, picked Stephen Vincent Benet's "Freedom's a Hard-Bought Thing" from the Saturday Evening Post for first place and a $300 award. The $200 second prize went to Roderick Lull of Portland, Oregon, for his story originally published in the Atlantic Monthly, "Don't Get Me Wrong". Edward Havill, from Kenka Lake, New York, won the $100 third prize with "The Kill", a story first seen in Harpers Bazaar.

This volume contains these and 14 other short stories that are bound to be interesting and readable, so here's a way to pass away some spare hours.

They've done it again! Clemson's gridiron masters took the field Saturday in two powerful drives that throttled the Purple Hurricane down to a 13-7 defeat in one of the present season's most exciting football games. Sistine stadium, located in the heart of Greenville, was packed to capacity with a spell-bound audience of 19,300 cheering spectators, clad in every color from the blue-grey uniforms of the Cadets to the fiery red worn by the "Zoo" girls.

Furman's eleven started the fireworks in the opening quarter when the Hurricane's brilliant fullback "Bull" Proctor swept around the left end of Clemson's line to rack up the first tally of the game. "Bull" was slated for a run around the Tiger's right end but as he started around, the Bengal line closed in on him. Seeing that he was stopped on that side, he quickly reversed his field, leaving his interference, and spurted around the opposite side of the field, taking the Tigers completely by surprise. An open path lay ahead of him, and he made the score without serious threats of being stopped. The extra point sailed squarely between the uprights, leaving the Tigers behind, 7-0 in the first quarter.

CLEMSON TEAM BOUNDS UP AGAIN

But the inspired Clemson team was not to be caught napping again. Their opponents' score only seemed to spur them on, as the line opened up gaping holes through which the backs lugged the ole pigskin into their enemy's back yard, and in the second period of play, with the score still 7-0, Maness, who was back for a pass, fumbled but Charlie Timmons recovered and let loose an aerial bomb which terminated in Jumping Joe Blalock's sensational catch in the Hurricane's end zone. The score was far from being tied, however, as the crowd witnessed when a Purple lineman lunged forward breaking up the try for the point. The half ended with the Hurricane blowing ahead with a 7-6 lead.

A heart-breaking blow hit the Tigers when Maness' 70 yard exploit to the end zone was called back because of a clipping penalty. "Chippy", after breaking through Furman's line, shook off three other tacklers and sprinted for the end zone in one of the prettiest runs of the day only to have his efforts dubbed futile. On the next try, however, the same play was called and "Chippy" broke loose again for 40 yards this time, being pulled down from behind on the Purple's 38.

The third quarter passed without a real threat from either team. In the fourth quarter, though, and with only ten minutes to go, he Tigers again started an aerial blitzkrieg from their own twenty-five yard line. Maness again featured by his accurate tosses. He passed to Blalock who was tackled on the Furman thirty, but just as he started to fall, Jumping Joe saw Aubrey Rion coming up fast and he lateraled to Aubrey, who covered the remaining 30 yards in record time. Rion booted the pigskin midway between the goal posts for the extra point; the score now being 13-7 with only six minutes left in the ball game. The clash ended with the ball in Clemson's possession on Furman's 20 yard line.

MANESS—CLEMSON'S STAR

"Chippy" Maness was, without fear of contradiction, the most outstanding player of the day because of his uncanny ability at punting, passing, and running, but most of all because of the excellent job he did at leading the team. "Chippy" was the sparkplug of every Tiger play and he surely deserves to be ranked Clemson's number one back of the year. Other top performers who turned in great records were Big Bill Hall, Charlie Timmons, and Joe Blalock.

Saturday's victory for the Tigers clinched the State and Southern Conference championships for Clemson and for the first time since the founding of the Southern Conference circuit, the championship rested in the hands of a South Carolina team. Furman cost Clemson a chance at the crown three years ago by coming through with an upset tie in the final game of the season. Virginia Military Institute tied a heavily favored Clemson team in 1938, again eliminating the Tigers from the Conference race. Last year, Clemson safely overhauled four circuit teams to share in the championship honors with Duke. The Bengals haven't lost a conference game in three years and that record surely deserves credit.

The curtain has fallen on the last act of the football play for Clemson's 1940 eleven, but the team that played so gallantly for the past season won't go unrecognized. The boys played a swell grade of ball all season, and as for Coach Frank Howard—well, there's no happier man at Clemson than he. Coach Howard has done a splendid job as head tutor and no greater reward can a coach receive than to have his team take a conference championship during his first year as head-master.

CAGERS TAKE OVER

Now that the Clemson-Furman feud is over, and all the bruises and bumps of the gridiron are healing, the public eye will soon turn toward the bounding, sphere-tossing basketweavers of the hardwood. These lanky boys, under the guiding hand of Coach "Rock" Norman, will occupy the limelight in the sport pages of the papers of South Carolina before long, and the Cadets are eagerly awaiting the thrilling episodes in the field house when the Tiger cagers clash. Last year, the team was somewhat hindered by the absence of a few of the varsity loopsters at the beginning of the season because of the Cotton Bowl game in which they played, but this year the quintet will get off to an early start with every player available. The Tigers were knocked from the ranks of Conference champions last spring but take it from us—the Bengal team is going to give the other loop teams a run for their money this time and they've set their caps for the circuit crown in the Southern Conference.

Dirty Dozen Do Dirty Work Against Enemy

CLEMSON, S. C., Nov. 28 — An even dozen players participated in the 192 points scored by Clemson's Tigers in winning six games, losing two and tying one this year. Aubrey Rion, fleet halfback who ran 30 yards against Furman with a lateral from Joe Blalock to enable the Tigers to annex the 1940 Southern Conference championship, led the scorers with 28 points. The field followed in this order: Joe Blalock (24), George Floyd (24), Charlie Timmons (22), Chippy Maness (20), Calloway Stanford (18), Harold Pierce (12), Sid Tinsley (12), Booty Payne (8), Joe Richardson (6), Tom Wright (6), and Norwood McElveen (2).

Timmons, Fumbled, Thought, Snatched, Tossed And Scored

The Clemson Tigers, 1940 Southern Conference champions, can thank Charlie Timmons' fast thinking and perfect knowledge of play assignments for much of the honor. Clemson's first touchdown in the 13 to 7 championship victory over Furman University last Saturday resulted from Charlie's alertness. The play called for a snap-back to Timmons, who was to hand the ball to Tailback Chippy Maness who in turn was to pass to Joe Blalock. Timmons and Maness fumbled the ball, but Timmons snatched it up, sprang around and shot the pigskin 20 yards to the designated spot. En Joe Blalock was on the goal line waiting for it. Blalock did not

Grygo, Sossamon To Captain Clemson's All-Opponent Team

Rival Captains Tossing Coin

This was the moment that 19,000 howling fans were waiting for Saturday, above, when the Clemson and Furman captains met in the center of the field for the customary toss of the coin. Furman won the toss as the crowd roared. Captain Pepper Martin of Furman (No. 62), is shown facing Captain Bob Sharpe just before the coin was flipped into the air by the official. Both played superb games.

Chestochowski Lauds Tiger Seniors' Work

By BEN CHESTOCHOWSKI

Saturday saw Clemson downing its last seasonal opponent, and there were those who played their last game for the glory of the Alma Mater. Their college football is now destined to become memory, one that they can look back on with a personal feeling of pride and joy.

This season's crop of departing seniors is made up of Bob Sharpe, Bill Hall, Ed Maness, Jim Busley, Jim Blessing, Roy Pearce, Aubrey Rion, Charley Tisdale, Frank Dietz, Hugh Webb, Calloway Stanford, and Dan Coleman. Looking over the list, one cannot help but feel that their leaving will be a great loss not only to the Tiger squad, but to the entire student body as well. Their names and their achievements on the gridiron will not be forgotten by those who will follow, for they rightfully deserve a place in the annals of Clemson's football history.

Seasonal predictions did not do justice to Chippy Maness, for he has turned in one of the best performances of any player. An unbelievably powerful ball carrier for his weight, Chippy has run away with the ground gained honors, which is quite an achievement in itself. A "seat belt" type of player, he has added color and thrills to many a game. His marvelous playing in the Furman classic is reason enough for Chippy to be long remembered by all who follow the Tiger.

With all of the physical requirements of an outstanding end, Jim Pasley would have reached his top season this fall, had it not been for a badly injured shoulder. Great things were on the way for Jim, for there seemed to be nothing that could stop him from taking his stand with the great ends of the day. Jim saw action in a few games and made a marvelous showing despite the injury. Such game attempts on his part to do his share cannot and will not be forgotten.

The "tiny mites" have done more than their share this fall, and outstanding in this case have been Roy Pearce and Aubrey Rion.

First S. C. Team To Annex Crown

By LARRY COKER

Clemson's rejuvenated Tigers brought the 1940 season to a fitting close by crushing Furman University's Purple Hurricane 13-7 before an overflow crowd of 19,000 rabid fans in Greenville last Saturday. In winning the Tigers for the first time gained undisputed possession of the Southern Conference crown in addition to winning the state championship for the fourth straight year.

This marks the first time any South Carolina school has ever won the Conference crown, and the first time since '35 that the Blue Devils of Duke had not won or shared in the title. This year the University of North Carolina blasted Duke's hopes with a 6-3 upset win. In capturing the title Clemson defeated, N. C. State, South Carolina, Wake Forest and Furman.

Furman took the lead early in the first quarter when Barnett threw an 11-yard pass to Proctor who reversed his field and with the help of some beautiful down field blocking ran 60 yards for the touchdown. Hamer converted to give the Paladins a 7-0 lead.

In the second period immediately after a 67-yard touchdown gallop by Chippy Maness had been nullified by a clipping penalty, the Tigers scored on an aerial from Charley Timmons to Joe Blalock. Barker blocked Timmons' try for the point to keep the Hurricane in front.

Clemson came back in the opening minutes of the final quarter to score when Joe Blalock took Maness' pass, ran to the Furman 30, and lateraled to Aubrey Rion who covered the remaining distance to the goal and scored. Then Rion kicked the point from placement to give the Tigers the ball game and the Conference crown.

Chippy Maness playing the last game of his college career turned in another great performance. Maness gained 110 yards for an average of 9.1 yards per try to lead the ground gainers. These totals do not include the 67-yard punt return that was stricken from the records by a penalty. In addition to his contributions to the rushing totals Chippy tossed the pass that Blalock caught which resulted in victory for the Tigers.

Joe Blalock, Charley Timmons, and Alt, Captain Bill Hall were on the job, and did much for the Bengal cause.

About midway the first quarter Clemson stopped a Furman drive and took the ball on the Tiger 20-yard line. A penalty put the ball way back on the Clemson five where Maness kicked out to Barnett on the Hurricane 47. A charging Tiger line smothered the Purples for three downs, then Barnett faded and threw a looping aerial to Proctor who took the ball, cut across to the sideline and went 60 yards to score the first touchdown of the game. Hamer converted from placement, and the score was Furman 7-0.

To start the second quarter, Sid Tinsley who had been out since the Wake Forest game, went into the battle, and put the Hurricane in a hole when he kicked to Martin who returned to the Furman 8. Then Maness took the kickoff on his own 33, and after working loose from several tacklers got away around his own left side for 67 yards and a touchdown, only to be called back and penalized back to the Tiger 21.

On the next play Maness almost repeated when he went around right end for 43 yards. Then three plays later Maness, again carrying the ball, reached the Furman 20 before he was hit down. On the next play the Tigers scored when Timmons picked up a fumble and passed perfectly to Joe Blalock in the Furman end zone. The try for the point after touchdown was blocked and Furman held a 7-6 advantage at the half.

The third quarter, the only scoreless period in the game, passed all too quickly for the Clemson supporters. The Tigers stopped a Furman drive on the Clemson 25, and came back to push down deep into Hurricane territory before being set back and halted by another 15-yard penalty.

After the final period was well under way, Barnett punted and Payne was thrown out of bounds on the Clemson 29. On two plays Maness and Timmons carried to the Tiger 47. Then came the perfectly executed play that won the ball game. Maness threw a long pass down field to Blalock who, when hit, lateraled out to Aubrey Rion who ran on over for the score. This play carried 35 yards. Rion then kicked the extra point, putting Clemson in the lead 13-7.

A few plays after Clemson kicked off to Furman, Tisdale recovered Proctor's fumble on the Purple 28 and the Tigers were pushing hard for another score. The Hurricane forward wall held and
